The screenshot shows the SEAC website homepage. At the top left is a small logo of a yellow face with stars. Below it is a dark navigation menu with white text: WHO WE ARE, NEWS, CARLOS-JASCHEK-AWARD, CONFERENCES, EDUCATION, WEBLINKS, PUBLICATIONS, STARLIGHT DECLARATION, MEMBERS AREA. The main content area has a search bar at the top right. Below the search bar is the SEAC logo, which consists of a yellow face with stars on a blue background, followed by the text "Société Européenne pour l'Astronomie dans la Culture" and "SEAC" in large blue letters, with "European Society for Astronomy in Culture" underneath. The main heading is "SEAC - Homepage". Below that is the text "SEAC 2022: 29th Conference of the European Society for Astronomy in Culture". The main title of the conference is "Signs and Symbols: Above and Below" in large red letters. Below that is "West University of Timișoara" and "Timișoara, Romania, September 5-9, 2022". At the bottom are two links: "Further information" and "Conference website". On the right side, there is a light green box with a white border containing the text: "Attention: This is a new version of the SEAC website. There will be further improvements and enhancements during the next weeks."
